In August of 2023, the city was approached by Marilyn Schlake with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension, wanting Treynor to look at a program called Marketing Hometown America. After meeting with Marilyn and introducing the city to Mary L. Adams with Iowa State Extension, a local steering committee was formed in early 2024. Kelsey Stupfell was charged with bringing this program to Treynor. Marketing Hometown America (MHA) would be a pilot project in Iowa. The first task by Kelsey was to rebrand this effort; it soon became Treynor's Tomorrow. Over the summer, more than 100 people met in different groups to strategize and develop ways to make Treynor an even better place to live than it already is. On August 29, more than 80 community members gathered to see what all the groups came up with and put together committees based on those ideas. Community Engagement, Safety, Signage & Beautification, and Economic Development were the four committees formed that night. Since that meeting, the committees have started to work together to see what they can do based on the information they have. If you would like to be a member of any of the committees, please contact Kelsey Stupfell with the TS Bank or Michael Holton at the city offices at 712-487-3787.

City Administrator Notes

First, I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! 2024 has been a whirlwind for the city and is full of activities. The focus of the majority of 2024 revolved around making Treynor a better place to live. The final homes for the Heartland subdivision north of the community are now built upon. The assessments have added more than $12 Million in valuation to our community. 2024 marked the beginning of the construction of our new wastewater facility. This facility will bring our sewer treatment back into compliance and ready us for the next 20-30 years. It is not cheap, but it is necessary. The plant is still scheduled for completion early in 2025, with operations starting in the summer. This winter will mark five years since I took the city administrator position in Treynor. My goal has always been to work for you and become a community member in every way possible. My wife and I feel blessed to live here and call it home.

Second, Treynor is stronger financially now than it has ever been. Combined with strategic planning and efforts to get grants and other funding, we are moving forward with focus. Treynor has received more than $2,200,000 in grant money that has been applied to the cost of the new wastewater facility. We are also a partner of a more significant $800,000 DESTINATION IOWA grant that will be used and applied towards building a new street connecting Highway 92 to Heartland subdivision. We have secured almost $700,000 in grant dollars for the project. We have been truly blessed with fantastic partnerships with the Federal, State, County, and organizations like the Iowa West Foundation to help us progress these projects.

Finally, I thank several people who have stepped forward to continuing to make Treynor a special place. The Treynor schools and their many groups, Treynor Optimists, Treynor Farmers Market, American Legion Post #725, Junior Treynor Women, Vision Treynor Group, Treynor Recreations & Parks Board, Tristan's Trail, Dexter's Dream, Treynor Days Committee, PEO, both Zion and St. Paul's Churches, Junior Optimists, Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts to name a few. I also want to recognize a city staff that is second to no one.

Now, we embark on a new journey with Treynor's Tomorrow. Several people have stepped forward, and the community is already making progress. Beautification & signage, community engagement, economic development, and safety are the tasks that four committees of Treynor's Tomorrow are given to work with over the next 18 months. It is not necessarily about growth for Treynor but about making the community the best version of itself. It is about growing smarter, not just how many people we can pack into our town. Treynor is a great place to live and, more importantly, succeed.

Snow Removal Reminder

Our City crews work hard to ensure streets are cleared and need your assistance during snow removal operations. Remember that when a snow emergency is declared, there is no parking on the streets, right of ways, or public properties. Also, residents must keep snow removed from the sidewalks on their property. Thank you for your assistance.

Snow Removal Tips Pile snow on the left side of your driveway (when facing your property). This allows you to see oncoming traffic, and when the roadway is plowed again it won't push your shoveled piles back into your driveway.
